Announcements

➤ This Lent, we will start a Lenten Prayer Partners program with the youth and adults in our parish. The goal is to create a structured opportunity for youth to have fellowship with adult members of our parish. Each youth will be paired with an adult to share a weekly prayer request and exchange simple get-to-know-you questions. This is not a large time commitment! If you are interested in participating, please contact Dn. Luke or Mat. Ashley (ashley.loboda@gmail.com, #412-715-2163).

➤ The Orthodox Men's Group will be hosting a book group this Lent. The group will discuss the book "Live Not By Lies" by Rod Dreher. If you are interested, please see Deacon Luke for more information.

➤ Donations are now being sought for the completed iconography in the Children's ("cry") Room. Please see Fr Thomas if you are able to support this incredible gift to our children. Fr Theodore is completing the drawings in the Candle Kiosk Room and will complete the work, God willing, this year.

➤ The Lenten Schedule is now available at the candle desk. Please post it in a prominent place to make every effort to attend the Divine Services during Great Lent. We will not be curtailing services, we will actually be increasing the number of services we normally offer, since we will have all four Memorial Saturday Liturgies. May God bless your faithfulness as we approach the Lenten season.

This Week in Church School

Today's lesson: Solomon

Scripture reference: I/III Kings 1-3, 6-7, II Chronicles 3-9, Proverbs

Questions to ask/review:

- Who was Solomon? Who was his mother? His father?
- Who tried to steal Solomon's throne before David was even dead?
- What did the people shout when Solomon was anointed king?
- What animal did Solomon ride to be anointed king?
- Who was the prophet of David and Solomon?
- How did God appear to Solomon? What did Solomon ask for? Why?
- What actions demonstrated Solomon's wisdom?
- What great achievement did God allow Solomon to accomplish?
- Describe the design of Solomon's temple. What was the purpose of the inner/outer courts and the Holy of Holies?
- What three books of the Bible did Solomon write? How is each book different?
- When is the book of Proverbs read in the church? What are some themes from the Book of Proverbs?

Suggested Activities at home:

- Build a model of Solomon's temple out of cardboard or another material.
- Challenge each member of the family to memorize a memorable verse from Proverbs.

Prayer: Lord, gives us the wisdom of Solomon. Amen.

Hymns and Readings for Saturday, Mar 6

Tone 8 Troparion for the Departed

Thou only Creator Who, with wisdom profound, mercifully orderest all things, and givest unto all that which is useful: Give rest, O Lord, to the souls of Thy servants who have fallen asleep,// for they have placed their trust in Thee, our Maker and Fashioner, and our God.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Tone 8 Kontakion for the Departed

With the saints give rest, O Christ, to the souls of Thy servants, where sickness and sorrow are no more neither sighing, but life everlasting!

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Tone 8 Theotokion for the Departed

We have thee as a wall and a haven and an intercessor well-pleasing unto God,// Whom thou hast borne O Virgin Theotokos, the salvation of the faithful.

Tone 6 Prokeimenon for the Departed

Their souls shall dwell with the blessed. (Ps.
24:13a)

Epistle of the Saturday (1 Corinthians 10:23-28)

All things are lawful for me, but not all things are helpful; all things are lawful for me, but not all things edify. Let no one seek his own, but each one the other's well-being.

Eat whatever is sold in the meat market, asking no questions for conscience' sake; for "the earth is the Lord's, and all its fullness."

If any of those who do not believe invites you to dinner, and you desire to go, eat whatever is set before you, asking no question for conscience' sake. But if anyone says to you, "This was offered to idols," do not eat it for the sake of the one who told you, and for conscience' sake; for "the earth is the Lord's, and all its fullness."

Epistle for the Departed (1 Thes 4:13-17)

I do not want you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning those who have fallen asleep, lest you sorrow as others who have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so God will bring with Him those who sleep in Jesus.

For this we say to you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive and remain until the coming of the Lord will by no means precede those who are asleep. For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And thus we shall always be with the Lord.

Gospel of the Saturday (Lk 21:8-9, 25-27, 33-36)

And He said: "Take heed that you not be deceived. For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am He,' and, 'The time has drawn near.' Therefore do not go after them. But when you hear of wars and commotions, do not be terrified; for these things must come to pass first, but the end will not come immediately."

"And there will be signs in the sun, in the moon, and in the stars; and on the earth distress of nations, with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them from fear and the expectation of those things which are coming on the earth, for the powers of the heavens will be shaken. Then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will by no means pass away.

"But take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts be weighed down with carousing, drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that Day come on you unexpectedly. For it will come as a snare on all those who dwell on the face of the whole earth.
Watch therefore, and pray always that you may be counted worthy to escape all these things that will come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man."

Gospel for the Departed (John 5:24-30)

"Most assuredly, I say to you, he who hears My word and believes in Him who sent Me has everlasting life, and shall not come into judgment, but has passed from death into life.
Most assuredly, I say to you, the hour is coming, and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God; and those who hear will live. For as the Father has life in Himself, so He has granted the Son to have life in Himself, and has given Him authority to execute judgment also, because He is the Son of Man. Do not marvel at this; for the hour is coming in which all who are in the graves will hear His voice and come forth—those who have done good, to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of condemnation. I can of Myself do nothing. As I hear, I judge; and My judgment is righteous, because I do not seek My own will but the will of the Father who sent Me.

Communion Hymn for the Departed Blessed are they whom Thou hast chosen and taken, O Lord. Their memory is from generation to generation. (Ps. 64:4a; 101:12b) Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia!

Souls Saturday

We always commemorate souls on Saturday, because Sabbaton (Sabbath) means "rest" in Hebrew; and since the dead have rested from worldly and all other cares, we offer supplications for them also on the day which means "rest." It has become customary for us to do this every Saturday. On the present Saturday, we observe a universal commemoration, beseeching God for all the pious. The Fathers, knowing well that what is done on behalf of the reposed, that is, memorial services, almsgiving, and Liturgies, affords them great respite and benefit, allow the Church to do so on both an individual and a general basis, a tradition which they received from the Holy Apostles, as St.

Dionysios the Areopagite tells us.

Until the Second Coming of Christ, whatever is done on behalf of the departed brings benefit to them, as the Divine Fathers affirm, and, in particular, to those who did even some small amount of good when they were numbered among the living. Although Holy Scripture says certain things—and rightly so—for the chastening of the many, yet God's love for mankind prevails for the most part. We should know that in the next world all will recognize each other, both those whom they know and those whom they have never seen, as the Divine Chrysostomos says, proving this from the parable of the Rich man and Lazarus. They will not, however, be recognized in bodily form, for everyone will be the same age, and their physical characteristics will be absent, but only by the clairvoyant eye of the soul, as St. Gregory the Theologian says in his funeral oration for Cæsarios: "Then shall I see Cæsarios... brilliant, glorious,...such as in my dreams I have often beheld you, dearest of brothers." St. Athanasios the Great, in his oration on the departed, says:
"Even before the general Resurrection, it is given to the Saints to know each other and to make glad with one another, whereas sinners are deprived of this; and to the Holy Martyrs it is given to see what we do and to visit us in our needs. At the general Resurrection, all will recognize each other and the secrets of all will be made manifest."

Hymns and Readings for Sunday, March 7

Tone 6 Troparion of the Resurrection

The Angelic Powers were at Thy tomb; the guards became as dead men.
Mary stood by Thy grave, seeking Thy most pure body.
Thou didst capture hell not being tempted by it.
Thou didst come to the Virgin, granting life.
O Lord, Who didst rise from the dead,// glory to Thee.

Tone 4 Troparion of St Nicholas

You appeared to your flock as a rule of faith, an image of humility, and a teacher of abstinence.
Because of your lowliness heaven was opened to you!
Because of your poverty riches were granted to you!
O holy Bishop Nicholas, pray to Christ our God to save our souls.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Tone 3 Kontakion of St Nicholas

You appeared as a priest in Myra, O Saint Nicholas,
Fulfilling the gospel of Christ, O ven'rable one;
You laid down your life for your people And rescued the innocent from death.
Therefore you have been blest as a great init'ate of the grace of God.

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Tone 1 Kontakion from the Lenten Triodion

When Thou, O God, shalt come to earth with glory,
all things shall tremble, and the river of fire shall flow before Thy judgment seat;

the books shall be opened, and the hidden things disclosed;
then deliver me from the unquenchable fire,// and make me worthy to stand at Thy right hand, O Righteous Judge!

Tone 3 Prokeimenon of the Triodion Great is our Lord, and abundant in power, His understanding is beyond measure. (Ps. 146:5)

Epistle of the Sunday (1 Corinthians 8:8-9:2)

But food does not commend us to God; for neither if we eat are we the better, nor if we do not eat are we the worse.

But beware lest somehow this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to those who are weak. For if anyone sees you who have knowledge eating in an idol's temple, will not the conscience of him who is weak be emboldened to eat those things offered to idols?
And because of your knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died? But when you thus sin against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, you sin against Christ.
Therefore, if food makes my brother stumble, I will never again eat meat, lest I make my brother stumble.

Am I not an apostle? Am I not free? Have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? Are you not my work in the Lord? If I am not an apostle to others, yet doubtless I am to you. For you are the seal of my apostleship in the Lord.

Gospel of the Sunday (Matthew 25:31-46)

“When the Son of Man comes in His glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then He will sit on the throne of His glory. All the nations will be gathered before Him, and He will separate them one from another, as a shepherd divides his sheep from the goats. And He will set the sheep on His right hand, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on His right hand, ‘Come, you blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: for I was hungry and you gave Me food; I was thirsty and you gave Me drink; I was a stranger and you took Me in; I was naked and you clothed Me; I was sick and you visited Me; I was in prison and you came to Me.’

“Then the righteous will answer Him, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see You hungry and feed You, or thirsty and give You drink? When did we see You a stranger and take You in, or naked and clothe You? Or when did we see You sick, or in prison, and come to You?’ And the King will answer and say to them, ‘Assuredly, I say to you, inasmuch as you did it to one of the least of these My brethren, you did it to Me.’

“Then He will also say to those on the left hand, ‘Depart from Me, you cursed, into the everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels: for I was hungry and you gave Me no food; I was thirsty and you gave Me no drink; I was a stranger and you did not take Me in, naked and you did not clothe Me, sick and in prison and you did not visit Me.’

“Then they also will answer Him, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to You?’ Then He will answer them, saying, ‘Assuredly, I say to you, inasmuch as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to Me.’ And these will go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.”

Communion Hymn of Sunday

Praise the Lord from the heavens, praise Him in the highest! (Ps. 148:1) Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia!

The Last Judgment

After this, the Lord will suddenly come from Heaven like lightning, preceded by His honorable Cross, and a river of boiling fire will go before Him, cleansing the entire earth of pollution. The Antichrist will immediately be seized, and he and his minions will be handed over to the eternal fire.
As the Angels sound their trumpets, the entire human race will be gathered together from the ends of the earth, and from all the elements, in Jerusalem, because this is the center of the world, and there are set thrones for judgment, but with their souls and bodies all transformed into incorruption and having a single form, the elements themselves having been transformed into a superior state, and by a single word the Lord will separate the righteous from the sinners; those who have done good will depart, gaining eternal life, whereas the sinners will go to eternal punishment, and never will there be an end to their torments.
It should be known that Christ will not be looking at that time for fasting, bodily hardships, or miracles, good though these things are, but for things that are far superior, namely, almsgiving and compassion. To the righteous and the sinners He will speak of six virtues: “For I was an hungred, and ye gave Me food; I was thirsty, and ye gave Me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took Me in; naked, and ye clothed Me; I was sick, and ye visited Me; I was in prison, and ye came unto Me; for inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me.” Everyone can do these things according to his own ability. Then every tongue will confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. The torments which the Holy Gospel recounts are these: “there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched; and cast him into the outer darkness.” Clearly accepting all these things, the Church of God believes that the abiding of the Saints with God and the perpetual effulgence of His light and their ascent to Him are the delight of Paradise and the Kingdom of Heaven, and that alienation from God and the consumption of souls by the awareness that, through carelessness and temporal pleasure, they have been deprived of Divine illumination are the torment, the darkness, and the like.
